Anitua Exposed

The Anitua Group, was well represented and received plenty of exposure at the recent Australia PNG Business Forum and Trade Expo which it sponsored in Cairns in May. The event enabled us to forge new business relationships and strengthen existing partnerships, as well as learn more about upcoming business opportunities.

Event highlights included (1) John Gethin-

Jones' (Managing Director, NCS) excellent keynote presentation on the integration of women throughout the workforce and his message that violence is a barrier to this integration; (2) Prime Minister Peter O'Neill's commendation of NCS's successful expansion throughout PNG; and (3) the Financial Review's coverage of the conference which included a positive and considerable back page feature on The Anitua Group.

Anitua Constructions provide services for a diversity of projects from concept to completion including everything in between such as slab construction.

Capable of All Kinds of Construction

Anitua Constructions are demonstrating their many areas of expertise and adaptability as they work on four completely different building projects, on different sites, with different materials, and different challenges. With considerable experience at working on much larger projects they are also taking advantage of some new skills that can be developed and fine turned on these medium sized and quite diverse projects:

- Construction of a new 10-person two-storey accommodation block
- Construction of an abattoir
- Construction of three staff houses, two students halls of residence, one classroom, and one science laboratory
- Construction of a 'pilot' Village Development Scheme (VDS) house (with the potential to build another 35)

AMS Champions

AMS awarded last quarter's 'Mine Operations Champion Crew Award' to Crew 3 for having reached three months of no incidents as well as meeting all of their safety and production targets. Crew 1 won the award previously and Crew 2 came a close second.

AMS General Manager Mark Edwards said "being able to meet all targets for three months is very impressive ... the tonnes are being moved, the equipment is being looked after, and very importantly, by working safely the crew are looking after each other. Congratulations Crew 3!"

Elimination of Violence Against Women (EVAW) News

We are making lots of progress in many areas of our EVAW program. Something that just about everyone has been involved in is the White Ribbon survey. Thank you to everyone who completed a questionnaire or helped with administration and data entry. We look forward to receiving guidance from White Ribbon Australia on how to help make our workplaces safer and more supportive of women who suffer gender violence. The other big news was the success of the Lihir Ailan Haus Krai which EVERY one of our Lihir-based businesses supported by allowing staff to march. Additional support was provided through sponsorship by Anitua Corporate, Anitua Constructions, Anitua Protective Services, and NCS.

Another great initiative addressing EVAW was Anitua Supermarket's contribution to Mine Safety Week whereby following the lead of Manager, Rossina Ilamia, the staff put on a very entertaining skit addressing sexual harassment in the workplace - sexual assault is an extreme form of sexual harassment. The team even got to show their drama skills off to a non-Anitua audience of diners in the Newcrest mess. Although they made a lot of people laugh, the Supermarket team got people thinking and talking about sexual harassment and promoted the fact that it is not acceptable at ANY time in ANY Anitua workplace. Congratulations on this great initiative Anitua Supermarket.

The new HDR 250 has considerably more power, functionality, and safety features than its D85 predecessor.

New ARDS Rig Boosts Capacity

The new ARDS Horizontal Drill Rig (HDR 250) is bigger, better and safer than its predecessor and boosts the capacity of ARDS to more efficiently and effectively service its clients' drilling requirements. The HDR 250 is drilling depressurising wells in the pit walls of Newcrest Mining's Lihir operations to greater depths more quickly to improve mine efficiency. Key safety features of the HDR 250 include:

- Hydraulic lock outs on its deck so that no person can enter the work area without the prior knowledge of the driller.
- A hands free rod loading crane which eliminates numerous potential risks to offside by separating them from menial tasks such as those that need to be performed on other types of rigs (like the old D85).

- The crane and manipulator greatly improve rod handling capabilities and remove the hazardous practice of using slings by adding greater control when handling rods.
- An air conditioned cab which protects the driller from excessive heat and potentially deadly steam and gas.

The designing and building of the HDR 250 was a team effort between ARDS on Lihir, PNG and Interdrill in Townsville.
